

Natural Remedy For Hair Fall And Dandruff

There are certain habits that could be followed in order to avoid hair fall.

1. Stop scratching your scalp: Dandruff is caused due to formation of yeast in abundance on the scalp. It is the yeast that is responsible for causing inflammation and makes the scalp itchy. This also promotes the hair fall. Search for the antidandruff shampoos that help in moisturizing the scalp and are suitable with the body's pH balance.

2. Prepare a home remedy: A home based remedy would be the best cure for hair fall and dandruff as this natural remedy for hair fall does not generate any side effects and is much more effective than any other chemical based formula. Natural products are easily available in the super market such as baking soda that can help in achieving an itch free scalp. Divide the hair into several sections and sprinkle the baking soda at different places in your scalp. Rub thoroughly for a few minutes and rinse with water. Another method is massaging your scalp with tea-tree oil that has anti-fungal properties which helps in getting rid of itchiness.

3. Check lifestyle habits: take a deep sleep of at least 8 hours daily. Avoid extremely hot climates and dry your hair naturally without using any hair driers that causes unnecessarily dryness. Also, avoid using hair spray and gels that causes irritation.

4. Natural remedy for hair fall and dandruff: The most globally trusted and recommended therapy which is completely natural and herbal based remedy that never reported any sort of side effects till date. This natural and herbal based remedy is Hylux Lotion.

Hylux Lotion is an effective remedy for the treatment of hair fall and dandruff. Dandruff and hair loss is due to many factors such as deficiency of protein, vitamins, minerals and omega-3 fatty acids; poor nourishment of scalp; infections, lack of proper blood circulation and dryness of the scalp. Hylux oil improves the blood circulation that brings sufficient nourishment to the scalp to keep it well moisturized.

The main factors for the dandruff are infections. Hylux has an anti-inflammatory property so as to prevent the scalp from any further infections causing dandruff. The powerful ingredients used in this natural remedy for hair fall and dandruff are Neem, Bhringraj, Amla, Henna, etc that are capable to counter any type of side effects caused by the chemicals present in salts, shampoos or conditioners we use. Hylux is a mild remedy that is suitable for all types of skin including the sensitive ones. It has the long-lasting properties that improves the overall health of hair and keeps on maintaining its quality permanently. Regular use of it gives the long-lasting results making the hair soft, thick and shiny.

To get the desired results, shake the bottle before use and then do the massaging with the help of finger tips delicately on your scalp for about 10 minutes. To achieve best results, it is recommended to use it at night by keeping it on scalp all night and then rinse it the next morning.
